09
APR

Materialities of War

Lectures and Panel Discussion - Open to All!
Join us for Materialities of War, a dynamic one-day event organized by Stockholm University and the Swedish Defence University (FHS). This interdisciplinary event brings together leading scholars from archaeology, anthropology, ethnology, war studies, and political science to explore the social relationships between things and war/conflicts

FREE ADMISSION ▶ Time and place: 14.00–17.00,
Hörsal 3 / Auditorium 3, Södra Huset, Stockholm University

Stockholm University

Programme Overview

14:00–14:30: Lecture 1

'An Archaeological Perspective on Materialities and Their Broader Implications for War and Conflict'

Speaker: Andrew Jones (Stockholm University)

14:30–15:00: Lecture 2

'Managing Uncertainty at the Intersection of Technology and Nature: FARC's Guerilla Material Culture'

Speaker: Liliana Duica-Amaya (Georgetown University)

15:00–15:30: Q&A Session

15:30–16:00: Fika Break

16:00–17:00: Panel Discussion

How can we understand war and conflicts through things?

Featuring:

- Andrew Jones (Stockholm University)
- Liliana Duica-Amaya (Georgetown University)
- Antoine Bousquet (Swedish Defence University)
- Peter Haldén (Swedish Defence University)
- Mattias Frihammar (Stockholm University)
- Moderator: Caroline Holmqvist (Swedish Defence University)

Department of Archaeology and Classical Studies,
Stockholm University
E-postadress: rolf.fabricius.warming@ark.su.se

Stockholm University