Stockholms universitets studentkår

Welcome to start-up meeting for student council at the Department of Statistics – your education affects you, affect your education!

Every department at Stockholm University must have a student council that ensures that the students' voice is heard. Your department's student council is at the moment unactive, and we therefore invite you to a start-up meeting. Are you interested?

- Yes, but what do I get out of joining a student council?

- Earn at least SEK 600 per meeting as a student representative
- Valuable experience to put on your CV that can increase your chances for a job after your studies
- Opportunity to influence your education
- Meet other students and create your own community

Start-up meeting:
Date: October 14th
Time: 15:00 to 16:00
Place: Board room at the Department of Statistics, 6th floor in house 4 at Campus Albano. Please use the elevator in zone Q.

During the meeting, we will go through what a student council and a student representative do, what issues the council can pursue as well as what types of activities the student council can organise. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Stockholm University Student Union (SUS) at studentombud@sus.se.

No prior knowledge is required, and no commitments are binding. Hope to see you on October 14th!
