TEACHING AND SUPERVISION

Pedagogical training

- Basic course in higher education pedagogy (UL1, 7.5 credits), CeUL, Stockholm University 2006
- Research supervision in theory and practice (Forskarhandledning i teori och praktik), CeUL, Stockholm University, autumn 2026

Courses taught

Course	Role	Period
Time Series Analysis (ST2301)	Lecturer and course responsible. Developed modern lecture materials	2023-
Bachelor's thesis course (ST3901)	Lecturer, course responsible and examiner	2025-
Econometrics, Financial Statistics, Statistical Computations, Statistical Data Analysis, Statistical Theory, Descriptive Statistics, and Survey Methods and Statistical Data Analysis	Course responsible for Econometrics, Statistical Data Analysis, Statistical Theory, Descriptive Statistics, and Survey Methods and Statistical Data Analysis. Assistant teacher for the rest.	2004-2011
Econometric Methods, Department of Economics, Stockholm University	Lecturer, course responsible and examiner	Spring and autumn 2024
VAR and BVAR modeling, Central Bank of Rwanda	Responsible for a Sida project. Lectures and developing models on site.	Nov–Dec 2022

Supervision

- Bachelor's theses: sole supervisor for a large number (> 30) of theses since 2011.
- Master's theses: sole supervisor for 18 theses, 2013–2026.
- Doctoral students, main supervisor: Oskar Gustafsson (PhD 18 Dec 2020), now at the National Institute of Economic Research. Thesis "Some Contributions to Heteroscedastic Time Series Analysis and Computational Aspects of Bayesian VARs". Erik Spånberg (PhD 25 Nov 2022), now at the Ministry of Finance. Thesis "Variational Inference of Dynamic Factor Models".
- Doctoral students, co-supervisor: Jiazhen Jing (since Sep 2025) and Carl-Magnus Sundh (since Sep 2026).
- Complete lists of supervised theses are available on request.
