

List of accepted papers for the workshop “Argument-coding patterns in the languages of Pamir, Hindu Kush and Karakoram”

Authors	Title
Samopriya Basu	Multiple agreement in Kishtwari and Poguli: Consequences for the diachronic trajectory of Old Indo-Iranian enclitic pronouns in Indo-Aryan and Iranian
Daria Chistiakova, Daria Ryzhova, Polina Padalka	Diversity of transitive constructions in several Pamir languages
Matteo De Chiara	Pashto “anti-impersonal” verbs: a typological and diachronic analysis
Amir Haider, Clinton Parker	Experiencer constructions and subjecthood in Shina and Shughni
Jakob Halfmann, Natalie Korobzow	Alignment Change in the Hindu Kush-Karakorum
Alexandra Ioannisiani, Sviatoslav Kaverin	Argument-marking in Tregami and Zemiaki against the Nuristani Kalasha background
Zafeer Kiani, Ayesha Bibi	Morphosyntactic Variation and Split Ergativity in Northern Hindko
Davide Lago	Accusative case or differential object marking? The particle uə in Yadgha
Robert Tegethoff	Two can play at this game! The survival of Old Indic middle voice morphology in Kalasha and Khowar and the rise of a new unaccusative inflection
Noboru Yoshioka	Similarity and Dissimilarity between the Coding Patterns for Core Arguments in Burushaski and Domaaki
Bettina Zeisler	Argument patterns and variation along the Karakorum