Teacher responsibility in light of students' use of generative AI (such as ChatGPT)

Participate in a research study/workshop at SU (Frescati) on March 26 or 30 at 1 pm

What kind of study is it?

The study targets university teachers (incl. doctoral students) in the humanities and social sciences at Stockholm University and is carried out by doctoral student Elin Sporrong as part of her thesis work at the Department of Computer and Systems Sciences.

What does participation in the study mean?

You participate by taking part in a workshop (max 3 hours) held at Stockholm University, Department of Education (Frescati). During the workshop, participants are encouraged to discuss their experiences of change in teacher responsibility related to generative AI. No preparation is required (Yes, there will be fika).

Interested in participating?

Sign up to participate or get more information by emailing Elin at elin.sporrong@dsv.su.se. Participation is voluntary and can be cancelled at any time! The workshop is held in English if needed.

Elin is supervised by Professor Teresa Cerratto Pargman and Associate Professor Cormac McGrath.

Read more about the thesis work here!