Abstract

This award-winning poster, presented at the EAIE conference in Gothenburg 2025, explores the puzzle of creating the Joint Master's Programme in Transdisciplinary Studies of Climate, Environment and Energy which SU coordinates. SU is part of the CIVIS Alliance which consists of 11 European and 6 African universities. We will present insights and reflections on assembling a transdisciplinary programme within a University Alliance from SU's perspective. Each "piece" of our puzzle represents a practical tip or hard-learned lesson—shared to help others to develop similar partnerships and avoid common pitfalls.
