10.00–10.45 Speech: Dominique Laboureix, Taking Stock of Crisis Management Reforms and Remaining Challenges. Commentator: Thorsten Beck

10.45–11.00 Coffee break

11.00–12.15 Panel I: Evaluation of "Too big to fail reforms" so far

Over the past decade, substantial progress has been made in addressing the "too big to fail" problem. Resolution regimes, including bail-in frameworks, have significantly enhanced authorities' ability to manage the failure of large banks without recourse to public funds. How far have we come, and what can be learned from recent bank failures? Against the backdrop of the ongoing debate on regulatory simplification, this panel discusses the remaining challenges and how to safeguard the effectiveness of the framework.

Panel members: Claudia Buch, Dominique Laboureix, Nicolas Véron and John Vickers
Moderator: Karolina Ekholm

12.15–13.30 Lunch

13.30–14.15 Speech: Patrick Honohan, Managing a banking crisis with and without resolution legislation: lessons from Ireland. Commentator: Lene Kjaer

14.15–15.00 Speech: Alain Girard, Experiences of bank crisis management under the new regime. Commentator: Stefan Ingves

15.00–15.30 Coffee Break

15.30–16.45 Panel II: S*afeguarding Confidence and Liquidity Reserves in Bank Crisis*.

As recent bank crises have shown, access to liquidity is core to maintaining confidence and to effective crisis management. This panel brings together resolution authorities, central banks and policy experts to discuss how liquidity stress may unfold, how liquidity and confidence can be safeguarded across the crisis lifecycle, and where current frameworks may be improved.

Panel members: Jan Marc Berk, Patrick Honohan, Tuija Taos and Erik Thedéen.
Moderator: Martin Flodén

16.45–17.00 Closing Remarks: Karolina Ekholm

18.30 Conference Dinner – co-sponsored by Sveriges Riksbank
